Eclipse Corporation:
Pioneering Excellence, Distinguishing Innovation

As specialists in document generation, we know that developing our software, DocOrigin, is only the first step. Our team of experts offers comprehensive support and consultancy to tailor DocOrigin's capabilities to your specific requirements, ensuring optimal performance, efficiency, and return on investment.

The History of Innovation:
From JetForm to DocOrigin

Founded in 1992, Eclipse Corporation has made significant contributions to the world of enterprise class forms and document solutions. This legacy of innovation continued with the development of DocOrigin, our flagship software, by the original team behind Jetform. Today, Eclipse is renowned for its unparalleled solutions in documents, labels, and more, leveraging decades of expertise to serve our clients.

DocOrigin is the culmination of our journey and embodies over 30 years of industry experience. Embrace the future with us as we continue to evolve, blending history with innovation to redefine document creation.

DocOrigin® Key Advantages of DocOrigin:

Dynamic Template Design: Create a template that responds to varying data, ensuring your documents always meet your visual expectations and complex business requirements.

Omni-Channel Delivery: Manage complex, dynamic document delivery requirements for any number and type of channels including email, print, and web.

Batch Processing / Bursting: DocOrigin handles your document needs including batch processing at scale.

Migration Made Easy:

Eclipse Form Conversion Service: This service automates the process of converting existing templates, maintaining their integrity and layout while reducing development efforts.

Utilize Existing Data Without Alteration: DocOrigin has the ability to seamlessly integrate with existing data sources "as is". Businesses can continue to use their current data formats.

Parallel System Operation: DocOrigin runs concurrently with your existing system for a smooth, phased transition.

Streamlining Customer Engagement with Business Communication Center

Business Communications Center (BCC) transforms DocOrigin into a powerful web application. Empower your employees to build sophisticated, data-driven messaging campaigns.

- Centralized Control: Manage all customer communications from one intuitive platform.

- Enhanced Engagement: Tailor every communication to meet individual customer needs.

- Streamlined Operations: Integrate seamlessly with DocOrigin to enhance document generation.
