Upgrade Your Document Generation with DocOrigin: The Ultimate Replacement for Bottomline Technologies

Are you facing challenges with discontinued Create!Form or Optio products? Or are you using Transform but finding it inadequate for your growing document generation needs? As your business expands, so do the requirements for dynamic, flexible, and sophisticated document creation.

Meet DocOrigin by Eclipse Corporation — the smarter choice for enterprise document generation. With unmatched flexibility, superior performance, and an intuitive design, DocOrigin stands as the ultimate alternative to Create!Form and Optio. Whether you're dealing with compatibility issues, seeking better support, or simply looking for a more efficient solution, DocOrigin revolutionizes your document generation process, driving higher productivity across your business.

Why Choose DocOrigin?

DocOrigin excels as a leader in advanced document generation, featuring seamless integrations, a user-friendly composition interface, and optimized business processes. With rapid design capabilities and robust performance, DocOrigin meets the needs of today's fast-paced business landscape.

The core of DocOrigin is its Design application, a Microsoft® Windows® software with an intuitive graphical user interface (GUI). It simplifies the creation of business forms and templates, allowing users to handle complex scenarios with ease and efficiency. DocOrigin empowers your organization with virtually limitless possibilities for document generation.

Unmatched Focus and Expertise

At Eclipse Corporation, document generation is our sole focus. We are a company that prioritizes our clients and our flagship product, DocOrigin — not shareholders or a board of directors. This focus allows us to provide unparalleled support and continuous enhancements.

Key Advantages of DocOrigin

- Dedicated Support: U.S.-based support team with over 25 years of expertise in document generation.
- Ongoing Enhancements: DocOrigin continues to receive updates, enhancements, and bug fixes, ensuring long-term reliability.
- Specialized Services: Eclipse offers migration, consulting, and technical services exclusively for DocOrigin, handled by experts who only work on this product.
- Versatile Compatibility: DocOrigin integrates seamlessly with any ERP version, including JDE, and works independently of your application using almost any data format.
- Cross-Platform Support: DocOrigin Design is a 64-bit Windows application compatible with all current Windows versions, while the merge component operates on Linux, Windows, iSeries, and AIX.

The DocOrigin Edge

Choosing DocOrigin means choosing a robust, user-friendly platform that eliminates compatibility headaches and provides comprehensive, dedicated support. Unlike companies that may sunset their solutions, Eclipse Corporation is committed to the ongoing development of DocOrigin, ensuring it evolves alongside new technologies.

Conclusion

DocOrigin delivers enterprise-grade software for designing forms, checks, documents, and labels. Created by the founders of JetForm, DocOrigin brings together over 30 years of industry experience with modern, open technology. It offers advanced features, unparalleled flexibility, and ease of use for complex document generation, making it the perfect choice for organizations with customized needs.
